When it comes to neighborhoods, we've dished the dirt on the 10 best, the five up-and-comers, and the five most expensive. Now it's time to cater to cribs that keep you tuned in without being tied down. Yep, it's time to take a look at Phoenix's coolest apartments. From Grand Avenue and

Midtown to Roosevelt Row and downtown central, here are our top five picks for renting in the city.

Oasis on Grand

For the downtown artist who enjoys First Friday art walks as much as they heart vegan pies and PBRs, there's no better oasis than the Oasis on Grand. This motel turned colorful apartment complex is located in the heart of the Grand Avenue Arts District and is close to nightlife hubs including Bikini Lounge, Trunk Space, Bragg's Pie Factory, and Bragg's Factory Diner. Rent ranges from $409 to $689 with studios and one- and two-bedroom units available. Although the apartments are modest in size, they feature updated appliances, balconies, and block walls ideal for blocking out unwanted sound and heat. Visit www.oasisongrand.com or call 602-358-8185.
